

Hello pianists & teachers,

I'm so happy to share another chord chart with you! I use these charts with my own students and we have truly enjoyed learning about chords and improvisations while allowing students to play the songs that they are asking for!

This one is extra fun- the music from "Encanto" is really great. (highly recommend the movie too!) "We Don't Talk About Bruno" is now the Number 1 song on the Billboard Music Charts. ("Let It Go" only ever made it to Number 5)

Have fun with this one! There are several other verses but the chords stay the same and I'm guessing your students know the words already!

Happy playing!

Rhonda

P.S. I'd love to hear from you!

Tips for teaching "Bruno"

- ✓ Have students learn the chords with just the right hand in root position to start
- ✓ Once a student knows the chords, ask them to add "just the name of the chord" in the left hand
- ✓ The lyrics in purple are a second voice. In fact, "We Don't Talk About Bruno" is unique among popular Disney songs since it's actually a group number and not a solo. Have fun singing with your students, engage siblings or use this chart in group lessons.

In this song students can incorporate some staccato playing in order to create the groove that they already know & love
