

Hello again pianists & teachers!

This week I'm giving you "Good 4 U" by Olivia Rodrigo!

She was popular on the Disney channel before her solo album went big and started trending on Tik Tok. Your younger students might think this song is too hard for them but by introducing a chord chart (with only 4 chords) they'll be able to not only play it and sing it but make it their own!

Happy Playing!

Rhonda

P.S. I'd love to hear from you!

Tips for teaching chords

"Good 4 U" by Olivia Rodrigo has been a big hit since it came out in 2021. In addition to getting a lot of airtime on the radio, the song started trending on TikTok so chances are pretty good that your students know it well.

I chose this song because it's more up-tempo than most of the songs I've covered so far. Use this song as an opportunity to get the left hand moving. Consider incorporating octaves and repeated eighth-note patterns.

Why do I only do the chorus? Because then I send my students off to use their own ears to figure out the rest of the song! (or not- sometimes they are satisfied with just the chorus and we move on to another song)
