

Hello pianists & teachers!

When Beyonce releases a new song we gotta pay attention!

One of my goals is to help you bring your students the music they are asking for and make it as easy for you as possible.

So, I transposed this one down a 1/2 stop to make it a little easier on your students.

Happy playing!

Rhonda

P.S. I'd love to hear from you!

Tips for teaching "Break My Soul"

- ① The original version of this song is up one 1/2 step. If your students prefer playing along to the recording, this is a great time to talk about transposition. With only 3 chords in the chorus, it's a good place to start.
- ① This song features a lot of electronics and vocal harmonies. Take the opportunity to discover acoustic versions of songs vs electronic. Encourage students to really make this their own since they won't be able to replicate the original at the piano.
